

Terrible photo in the heat of the day, but this one holds its color well. Will look at it again next year.

2nd year bloom. The colors are very elegant. I'll have to evaluate the buds and branching next year.

Fasciated stem

Very subtle.

I love the recurve on this one.

An offspring of one of Jonathan's Blues Fest
Seedlings. Petite
bloom.

Unknown parentage. Drop dead gorgeous but, so far, no pollen and unable to set pods.

8" flower, rebloom, good branching and bud count.
